The Better mission is rooted in values that drive us.

- We do what's in the best interest of the consumer, not ourselves
- We have growth mindsets, not fixed ones
- We believe that success lies in execution, not credentials

- We work to find answers on our own, not wait for them to be given to us
- We optimize for mission, not ego

Our mission speaks for itself—we continue to outpace the industry at every turn. We've recently joined forces in partnership with Ally Bank, and our backers have helped build some of the most transformative tech and finance companies in history.
